Chinese Drywall - Review of Drywall Symposium

A note from the sender:

Greetings to all:
Karen did a great write up on the technical Drywall Symposium hosted by David Krause of the Florida's Department of Health so I wont bother writing my own and just forward hers. I have to say David did an awesome job as the brainchild with the venue, poster presentations, accommodations, schedule, presenters, etc, etc. No vegetables were thrown and everyone was appreciative of all the hard work that all the agency's put forth. I tweeted during the Symposium on some hot points. You can see them on the bottom of my home page. However, Karen Scott went over the top with one heck of a summary of the information presented and provides a detailed overview of the information that was provided.

I copied the body of her e-mail to the right and attached her 11 pages of Symposium notes as a pdf document. Refer to the bottom left of this email for the link to "Symposium Notes by Karen Scott"

Message from Karen Scott:

I promised many of you a synopsis of the Technical Symposium last week in Tampa. Attached are notes from the conference. I found it an extremely informative and interesting two days. It was an excellent opportunity to meet some of the people who have been contributing to the overall body of knowledge to date or who I have read about.

Dr Krause and the organizing committee did an excellent job putting it together.

The notes include information of specific interest to people on medical impacts, the effects of gasses on components of houses and construction remediation. Notes from Senator Nelson's speech are included. The entire conference will eventually be posted at www.drywallsymposium.com

Coming up soon:

Toxic Drywall Rally, December 5 from 11 am to 2 pm in Fort Myers. This is being coordinated by homeowners Mr. and Mrs. Brincku and Mr. and Mrs. Kampf. The meeting is at the Shell Factory and Nature Park and Lt. Governor Jeff Kottkamp has confirmed that he will be attending. I have attached flyer for your use.

Tainted Drywall Conference, January 29 from 8 am until 5 pm at Indian River State College, Main Campus, Fort Pierce, Kight Center for Emerging Technologies - Room V110 . This is a one day conference for professionals assisting homeowners with Chinese or defective sheetrock. The conference is co sponsored by The Environmental Sustainability Alliance of the Research Coast (ESARC) & The Corporate and Community Training Institute at Indian River State College. There is limited seating so book early. There are CEU's available for some professions. Panelists included professionals who have been working extensively with homeowners dealing with Chinese or defective drywall and who are willing to share their knowledge to date with other professionals in an open discussion environment. These panelists represent both public and private sectors and include attorneys, finance, inspections and construction professionals. If you are interested in attending you can book by following the attached link

Other news:

Most of you have heard that there is a push to get all homes with tainted drywall under Knauf labels sampled and reported in by December 2. If any of you are not working with attorneys, it is critical you pay attention to this deadline if you think you have any Knauf manufactured sheetrock and get help

Email list:

My distribution list is getting so long that I need to switch over to Constant Contact. If you see things start coming in from me there, please respond if you wish to stay on my distribution lists.
